BOLTCHAR

Time means money

AngelShack's BOLT chair is all about efficiency. Why waste time on waiting for furniture orders and repairs? We understand that business must continue which is why our chair is readily available and made for reliability. This is made possible through our quick assembly and delivery production line – right here, in South Africa.

At AngelShack we know and understand that your time at work needs to be as pleasant and productive as possible. That's why BOLT's ergonomic back design is shaped to support the lumbar region and is made of mesh upholstery, providing all-day comfort with style, while the height adjustable arms provide support and flexibility.

How can we make the perfect office chair?

Why is it that comfortable office chairs are so ugly, and beautiful office chairs so uncomfortable (and expensive)? Come on, it's the 21st Century. So we set out to do better. To make a beautiful looking task-oriented chair that provides total support through a long day at the office. At a fair and affordable price.
